Interesting Wedding at St. Paul's Church Today.

Mrs. Davis Entertains in Honor of Presentation-Personal Notes.

Dr. Edward Oliver Belt and Miss Emily Walker Norvell, both of this city, were married at noon today. The ceremony was performed in St. Paul's P. E. Church, by the rector, Rev. Alfred Harding. The church was prettily decorated with palms and lilies. Promptly at 12 o'clock the bride, attired in a handsome traveling gown, was escorted to the chancel by her uncle, Lieut. Col. Stevens T. Norvell, where she was met by the groom attended by his best man, Mr. McGill Belt, Miss Lotti: Parker of Virginia, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. The ushers were Mr. Wm. M. Dougal, Dr. Monte Griffith, Mr. Arthur Peter and Dr. A. Rhett Street an Peter and Dr. A. Rhett Stuart. The bride and groom left immediately after the cermony for New York, whence they will sail for Europe. Miss Norvell is the grand-daughter of Mr. John Norvell, one of the first United States senators from Michigan Dr. Belt belongs to the well-known Mary land family of that name, but has been resident of this city for some years. Among those out of town in attendance were Dr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Belt and Miss fame as a foot ball player is national. Mrs.

Butterworth and Mr. Benjamin Butterworth have been here lately on a little visit. Mrs. Cushman K. Davis was the hostess today of a breakfast in honor of Major

Richard Henry Savage of the 2d Volunteer Engineers and Mrs. Savage. The delight-ful function was preceded by an event which was a great surprise to the guest of honor and the occasion of the exchange of many pleasant wishes between the soldier-author and officers of his command. It was the presentation of a sword by the enlisted men of the 1st Battalion of the 2d Volunteer Regiment to Major Savage. The committee, consisting of Lleutenant Carpenter, Sergeant Major Snyder, Sergeant Clarence Riggs, Sergeant Traut and Corporal Collins, were present, and as they had previously asked Mrs. Davis to act as sponsor for them the hostess had the agreeable duty of presenting the sword to Major Savage, which she did with a few gracefully expressed sentiments. The litof many pleasant wishes between the solgracefully expressed sentiments. The lit-tle ceremony took place after the guests, all special friends of Major and Mrs. Sav-age, had assembled. The drawing rooms and hall of Senator and Mrs. Davis' new home, 1703 K street, were elaborately adorned with flowers and the national colors. The table in the dlning room was richly set and decked with flowers, and covers laid for twenty-one guests. Colonel Savage, who joined his wife here after his return from Cuba, is a well known writer. The most gratifying success is attending the sale of the tickets for the Children's Hospital ball at the Westinghouse mansion. The date has been again changed, and is now settled for Monday, May 22. Postponement or changes make very little difference at this season when there are so few formal affairs planned in advance, and in this case will be of double advantage to the success of the ball, which, however, by the large advance sale of tickets, is already assured. Most of the purchasers yesterday wanted fifteen or twenty tickets, the idea of large parties being a favorite form of hospitality just at present.

UNDER HACK REGULATIONS. Driver Fined and Case Appealed From Police Court.

Daniel Callan, a hackman, was today arraigned before Judge Kimball on the charge of disobeying an order of a policeman at the Baltimore and Ohio depot, in violation of an act of assembly of 1871. The accused man was represented by Mr. D. W. Baker, and Mr. James L. Pugh, fr. appeared for the District. Mr. Baker asked that the information against his client be quashed on the ground that there had been no offense under the laws of the District of Columbia, that the charge is vague and uncertain and unconstitutional, and for various other reasons, including a denial of the right of the assembly to pass such a law as the one in dispute.

The court overruled Mr. Baker's motion, and he noted an exception, and Callan was arraigned. Mr. Baker then asked for a jury trial for his client. This was denied by Judge Kimball, and Mr. Pugh called Of-ficer E. C. Goss, who made the arrest, to

The witness stated that when he ordered Mr. Callan to take his hack from a place where he had put it, he refused to do so, and he then placed the defendant under ar-rest, and took him to the sixth precinct station, where the latter deposited $5 collatral and was released.
The defendant corroborated Mr. Goss'

Mr. Baker asked for the discharge of his client, on the ground that Mr. Callan had only done what he had a right to do. Judge Kimball denied the request and imposed a fine of $5 on Callan.

Mr. Baker noted an appeal and gave the bond of $50 as required by law.

UNABLE TO FIND OWNER. Prisoner Admits He Stole Gold Watch

Daniel Hart was today a prisoner in the Police Court on a charge of vagrancy. After hearing the statement of Detective Horne and Sold It.

Judge Kimball postponed the trial for a Mr. Horne said that May 12 the detective House Chapter; Mrs. Croissant, regent of the Columbia Chapter; Mrs. Pepper of St. Louis, Mo., and other prominent persons. bureau received information that Hart had sold a handsome gold watch, worth at least $50, in Jackson City for $3, and, although the bureau had made strenuous efforts to find the owner of the watch, it had so far been unable to do so. Hart, Mr. Horne said, admitted that he and a man whom he did admitted that he and a man whom he did not know went out 7th street one night early this month, where the two became drunk and fell asleep. When Hart awoke he examined his associate's pocket, but found nothing but the watch. This he took. Hart confessed to Judge Kimball that he had served two terms in the penicen iary—one for burglary and the other for highway robbery—also that he had been in the work-house a number of times.

POLITICS IN A BAD MESS.

The Democratic Party Seriously Split in Alabama.

"Everything is all right in Alabama except politics," said ex-Gov. Oates to a Star reporter today, "and politics are in a bad mess. The democratic party is seriously split, and there's trouble in the camp. I am mighty sorry to see it. Every effort was made to prevent it, our two senators coming down and trying to fix things up, but to no avail. "It all grows out of the efforts of the democrats to purify the ballot. The best people in our state were getting tired of the ballot-box stuffing and the troubles we have had at election times, and cast about for a remedy. The last legislature passed vention, at which a change should be made in the election laws.

"We thought we would weed out the ignorant and corrupt vote, so that the in-telligent people could control the state. It naries for the convention were gone through, delegates were being selected and all was proceeding favorably, when some of the democrats holding high office in the state and aspiring for greater honors con-cluded that they did not like the personnel of the delegations to the constitutional onvention. "Delegates were being elected without egard to factional alignment. There were gold democrats and silver democrats, and the people were choosing the best men for the work in hand, without regard to the factions. There seemed to be danger that this convention might get too great a swing and bring men to the front who would be inimical to the personal ambitions of some democrats in power.

"At this, Gov. Johnson made some calculations and found that, with his own adher-ents and the aid of the populists, he could head off the convention. He called an extra session of the legislature and repealed the act providing for the convention. So there we are. We are to have no change in the ballet laws and things are to go of in the same old way. "There is no doubt that had we passed a restrictive law, weeding out the ignorant negro vote, it would have built up the republican party in Alabama, but I never worried about that. In our state, when a young man finds himself turning to repub licanism for one reason or another, he soon gets a dose that brings him back into the old fold. The first time that he tries to make headway in a primary or a ward meeting he runs up against the ignorant black contingent and gets enough of Alabama republicanism to last him a long time. A new ballot law would have elimi-nated the participation of the undesirable element.

'Now, the republicans are getting back at the populists. They recall the fact that the populists were always bleating with them about the anti-democratic vote being counted out, and yet here they find the populists helping to defeat a proposition which would result in counting in the republican votes cast under the law.

Martha Washington Chapter. The final "open meeting" of the season of the Martha Washington Chapter, D. A. R., was well attended and quite brilliant, notwithstanding the bad weather. The program included songs by Mrs. Rex Smith, Miss Tyrer, Mrs. Cooper and Miss Saidee Drown; a violin solo by Miss Farrow, accompanied by Miss Clifford; a plane sole by Prof. Arnold Meyer, recitations by Miss Lulu Wilbur and Mr. Claude Cooper, and original patriotic poems by Miss Fedora Wilbur, Miss Pike and Mr. Morton. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Edith Roberts and Mrs. Howard Johnson, assisted by other members of the chapter, and the evening wound up with dancing by the younger members. This innovation has met with such marked success that it will probably become a permanent institution, and has already been adopted by other chapters. Regrets were expressed at the absence of Mrs. Alden, state regent for the District of Columbia, who was not able to be present on account of indisposition. Among the in-vited guests were Miss Virginia Miller, acting regent of the Mary Washington Chap-ter and president of the Southern Relief Society; Miss Sue R. Hetzel, registrar general, D. A.
